

Dillon Drenzek

WEB DEVELOPER & ARTIST

On a Mission

I have an eye for good design, a knack for elegant code, and a solid empathy for people. These three strengths are the foundation of the start of my career crafting technology that enhances peoples' lives.

Tech Translator

Not everyone speaks computer, but I'm proud to. I love helping others translate their ideas into code, or discussing technical concepts in terms they understand.

A Rare Unicorn

People who can design, as well as write code, are known as unicorns. All I'll say is that my natural habitat is among Photoshop layers and blocks of code, where I thrive on creativity.

Self-Directed

When Native was founded, I anchored development of the iOS app. The other developer was usually busy being the CEO, so I often implemented key features independently.

Quick Learner

I started teaching karate with zero experience. Meaning, I had to learn new techniques fast and well enough to teach. I earned my black belt in just over two years!
